DOCUMENTS

All documents not in English must be accompanied by a certified translation into English. Translations must be certified by a competent translator and sworn to before a Notary Public.

Originals and one photocopy of all required civil documents for applicant and petitioner (birth, marriage and death certificates) listed on your appointment instruction sheet must be shown to the consular officer, who can certify the photocopies. If you do not bring photocopies, the originals will not be returned to you.

Guyana birth and marriage certificates must have been issued no more than two years prior to the applicant's visa appointment. Failure to bring recently issued civil documents will delay your case. All cases require birth certificates for both the petitioner and the beneficiary. If you have not obtained recently issued civil documents you should bring your older documents with you.

Birth certificates alone do not establish biological relationships. You may wish to bring historical documents, such as, baptismal certificates, school records, photos, etc.

If the relative who filed the petition has become a U.S. citizen, bring a notarized copy of the naturalization certificate or official notification from the U.S. Department of Homeland Security (DHS) indicating that your relative is now a U.S. citizen.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND

Bringing your fiancé/e (the petitioner) to your scheduled interview is likely to significantly shorten the amount of time needed to process your visa application. Therefore it is strongly recommended, but not required, that the petitioner attend the initial interview with you.

EVIDENCE OF ONGOING RELATIONSHIP

Unfortunately, we have found that there is great deal of fraud involved in relationships which confer immigration benefits. Certain types of documentation may be helpful in the adjudication of these types of cases. Please do not create evidence on your relationship solely to show the consular officer. Bring items that you have collected through the natural course of the relationship that shows convincingly you are in a relationship. Please do not include any lewd or pornographic pictures.

Possible evidence of relationship:

- Photos from you and your fiancé/e.
- Birth certificates of any children born to you and your fiancé/e.
- Copy of passport pages from any trips your fiancé/e has taken to visit you (include the biographic page).
- Documentation which shows that you and your fiancé/e have a continuing relationship.
- Documentation which shows you and your fiancé/e, have a joint residence and have formed an economic and material union. These may include but are not limited to, Lease/Mortgage held jointly, Utility Bills, Evidence of Joint Accounts, etc.

Note: You are not required to bring all of these documents. Please bring whatever evidence you feel convincingly shows that you are in an ongoing relationship.

Relationship between parents and children:

Generally these documents should cover years prior to and a few years after the birth of the person whose relationship is in question.

- Hospital Records

- Baptismal Certificates
- School Records
- Childhood Immunization Records
- Bank Statement or other financial records
- Court Reports
- Correspondence - cards and letters
